

Chapter 9 – Refer to pages 398– 426 to help you answer the questions

Summary sheet 1

- Define sustainability
- Why are the 3 dimensions of sustainability referred to as the three pillars (see Figure 9.2 on p. 400)?

Summary sheet 2

- Define economic sustainability
- Define social sustainability
- Define environmental sustainability

Summary sheet 3

- Expand on the considerations for economic sustainability
- Provide two examples about how each promotes health and wellbeing (for each consideration)

Summary sheet 4

- Expand on the considerations for social sustainability
- Provide two examples about how each promotes health and wellbeing (for each consideration)

Summary sheet 5

- Expand on the considerations for environmental sustainability
- Provide two examples about how each promotes health and wellbeing (for each consideration)

Summary sheet 6

- Explain human development as a concept
- Identify the P (Pros) and C (Cons) of measuring human development (quality of life) in this way

Summary sheet 7

- Define the Human Development Index
- Identify the three dimension and four indicators on which they are based

Summary sheet 8

- Identify the advantages and disadvantages of the Human Development Index

* What is SUSTAINABILITY:

*

*

[E] — ECONOMIC:

(2)

[S] — SOCIAL:

[E] — ENVIRONMENTAL:

1. Innovation & diversity of industries

2. Employment

ECONOMIC SUSTAINABILITY

4. Trade

3. Economic growth

1. Elimination of poverty & the provision of social protection systems.

2. Gender equality

3. Access to safe + decent working conditions.

5. Peace + Security

4. Promotion of political + legal rights

1. BIODIVERSITY:

2. CLIMATE CHANGE:

ENVIRONMENTAL SUSTAINABILITY

3. USE OF NATURAL RESOURCES:

4. WASTE REMOVAL + POLLUTION:

THE CONCEPT OF HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

P →

P →

P →

C →

C →

≈ HUMAN DEVELOPMENT INDEX ≈

7

DEFINE:

DIMENSIONS:

•

•

•

INDICATORS:

•

•

•

•

ADVANTAGES & LIMITATIONS
OF THE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT
INDEX:

*

*

*

*